Hotel Schloss Waldeck at Waldeck Castle

Waldeck castle rests on the remnants of an 11th-century fortification, towering over the town of Waldeck, in the district of Waldeck-Frankenberg in Hesse (Germany). The castle is situated to the north of the Kellerwald-Edersee nature reserve, 220 metres above the Edersee's north shore, on a steep, wooded rock close to the centre of the half-timbered town of Waldeck. What better place to take in the beautiful scenery!

Formerly the ancestral seat and residence of the Counts of Waldeck, the fortification was later used as military barracks. In 1734 it was a state penitentiary, and in subsequent years was used as state archive, forestry office, and, as early as 1906, was put to use as a hotel. Today it belongs to the Waldeckian domanial administration and is public property.

In September 2009, new leaseholder Volker Deigendesch reopened the redesigned Hotel Schloss Waldeck.

Wone of the region's most prominent landmarks, the 4-star superior Hotel Schloss Waldeck at the Waldeck castle is situated on top of a hill, 120 metres above lake Edersee, offering a breathtaking view of the lake, the national park and the Kellerwald-Edersee nature reserve.

After cautious, yet thorough renovation and interior decoration we are proud to invite you to this charming and enchanted castle. The sensitive application of colour to the rugged medieval walls has created an ambience, which perfectly unites old-fashioned castle atmosphere with modern amenities. Enjoy the special environment, and leave your everyday-worries behind.

The surrounding area is perfect for golfing, sailing, scuba diving, hiking and a host of other activities. Relax at our fireside lounge, enjoy a drink at the bar, or wine and dine at our gourmet restaurant Alte Turmuhr.

A small, but excellently designed wellness-area awaits you.

And of course, all rooms offer bathrooms with tub or shower, toilet, hairdryer, make-up mirror, minibar and safe. A modern multi-media system is at your disposal.

Welcome

Upon entering the lobby, you immediately “get” the idea of the castle’s interior design. The mighty old castle walls have been stylishly lit and presented. The former “good-luck-fountain” emanates mysterious blue light, and the reception desk seems to float.

You will be warmly received. All of the hotel’s staff are friendly and caring. And the pleasant first impression will be upheld by all of the other amenities.

Wait and see.

Good Night

Entering one of the 42 beautifully appointed rooms of the Hotel Schloss Waldeck, visitors are welcomed by a veritable mountain of pillows, piled high on a generously sized and comfortable bed, inviting guests to try them immediately. And each room offers a magnificent view, of lush countryside or the lake. A perfect place to rest your soul; dreams are expressly invited.

Technology-aficionados can use the flatscreen to surf the Internet, so there is actually no need to ever leave bed again, unless you want to. Should you decide to work or write a postcard to your loved ones at home, have a seat at the nicely crafted wooden desk.

The bathroom offers all of the amenities one could wish for. Carefully lit and stylishly furnished with an intriguing mix of dark slate, white porcelain, wood and classy fittings, lots of surface for your accessories, and an overall air of comfort and luxury.

And should your loved one decide to luxuriate a bit longer than usual, isn't it good to know you can retreat to the fireside lounge.

The Fireside Lounge

This is a peaceful haven for our guests. It was inspired by American clubs, which were designed for “gentlemen” to relax after work, for reading or for leisurely conversation, before going home to their families. This comfortable room, with its modern interpretation of classic elegance, is ideal for a drink from the adjoining bar, for reading the daily newspaper, or for playing a game of backgammon or chess, at the English card table.

But it is just as perfect for a few minutes spent holding hands, for getting lost in thought and for daydreaming.

Serenity, feel at peace, at home...

The Bar

Late night at the castle. Right next to the fireside lounge you'll find our cosy bar. Subdued lighting allows it to display its beauty and comfortable elegance.

This expertly equipped bar will surprise you with a cache of finest drinks, such as select grappas and excellent eau de vies by Nonnino, and a range of impressive whiskeys. Enjoy a marvellous view of night-time Waldeck, chat with friends or relish a solitary nightcap.

Dean Martin would have loved this place!

ALTE TURMUHR
RESTAURANT

Simply the Best

We take our inspiration from Oscar Wilde, who was quoted as saying: “I have but the simplest taste, I am always satisfied with the best”. And the best is often to be found right at our doorstep.

At the small but excellent restaurant Alte Turmuhr, chef Falko Sowinski creates delicious 3 or 4-course menus, for even the most educated palates. His specialty is the innovative combination of regional produce with exotic fare, with surprising and beautiful results. Falko Sowinski is only satisfied when he has managed to make his guests “just a bit happier”. A delectable ambition - and even delectable: just take a bite of one of his very own bread creations.

Unforgettable!

Savoury Tidbits

*A*n altan (rarely also: altane) is an open platform or balcony, resting on pillars or walls, on the upper level of a building.

Way up at a dizzying height, on sunny days the Café & Restaurant Altane offers a breathtaking view of the Edersee and the surrounding landscape.

Glorious. And on overcast days you'll simply love the comfortable atmosphere. Relaxed, bistro-style cuisine offering "Schmeckewöhlerchen", the region's savoury tidbits.

Try one of our coveted waffles, home-baked cakes, icecreams, assorted salads and delicious traditional dishes, prepared by chef Günter Hofmann. We're sure you'll find something to suit your taste. And the adjoining terrace is so beautiful, you'll hate to leave. The only possible solace is a glass of champagne.

Enjoy!
